August 26–28, 2020

Shenzhen Convention & Exhibition Center

Introduction

About NEPCON ASIA

NEPCON ASIA will be held at the Shenzhen Convention and Exhibition Center from August 26 to August 28, 2020. The exhibition is expected to span 60,000 sqm, making it the largest NEPCON exhibition ever. A combination of six exhibitions in one, NEPCON ASIA serves as a channel via which the entire electronics manufacturing industry can connect. The event is an international-standard electronics manufacturing industry show. A total of 800 exhibitors and brands from 38 countries and regions, together with 60,000 buyers, are expected to participate.

The show will be themed around 5G. The exhibition floor will feature new technologies and products from across the field of electronics manufacturing. These will include printed circuit boards, circuit board assembly machinery, automatic assembly solutions and testing devices. In 2020, NEPCON Asia will focus on the core needs of the electronics manufacturing industry. Digital manufacturing, lean production, product reliability and other topics, as well as communication, automotives, new energy and intelligent cities, will give visitors a first-hand look into the diverse array of available industry solutions.

The exhibition will provide personalized recommendations to each visitor, to empower them to achieve purchasing and partnership goals during the three-day exhibition. Through the recommendations, attendees can better connect with electronics manufacturing industry suppliers face-to-face, negotiate orders, join on-site activities, attend concurrently running conferences, learn about the industry and enhance their own knowledge.

Why exhibit?

NEPCON ASIA

The must-attend event in NEPCON ASIA this year!

NEPCON ASIA is one of the big products and technology procurement platforms for the electronics manufacturing industry in NEPCON ASIA. Boasting the long standing history, it gathers 48,535 high-end buyers, decision makers, engineers, and technicians from EMS/OEM/ODM, including consumer electronics, communications, and the computer, automotive and medical electronics sectors.

Sideline activities such as the EMA Pavilion, CS Show, AUTOMOTIVE WORLD CHINA and EMS Sourcing Hub provide the advanced industrial automation technologies and products in China, as well as the comprehensive PCB products. The event offers a great opportunity to showcase progresses in electronics manufacturing, design, and delivery solutions.

Blend of top international brands to make NEPCON ASIA highlight of industry calendar

Featuring Most Efficient Solutions for Entire Electronics Manufacturing Chain

Apart from surface mount technology, NEPCON ASIA will also show new innovations in test and measurement, soldering, ESD, machine vision and more!

New Products with Detailed Descriptions To Help Visitors Make More Informed Choices

Many industry leaders will launch new products and updated technologies at NEPCON ASIA

Discover Integral Technical Solutions and Share New Practice

48,535 key members of the electronics manufacturing trade, experts and company executives, will be onsite to share industry practice and discuss issues related to electronics manufacturing today.

Keep Pace with Top Market Trends, Source Fresh Commercial Opportunities

A diverse range of activities in popular fields like Computers, telecommunications, OEM, LED and automotive electronics, are scheduled for NEPCON ASIA. These will further enhance the numerous benefits offered by the event.
